

Patient Junction™

Patient Junction

Patient Junction is a highly customizable system that collects registration information, medical history and other survey data, along with signatures directly from patients in electronic form.

When it is used with an ordinary Windows®-based PC, Patient Junction becomes a waiting room kiosk. It can also be used on tablet PC's for convenient electronic signature capture and it can even be extended to the Web. The information collected is then written directly into the database of an AltaPoint™ system.

An ordinary PC becomes a waiting room kiosk by adding an e-signature pad and Patient Junction
